HANDICAPS FOR GOLF TOURNAMENT

Play To Be Started Thursday If Weather And Ground Conditions Permit

Chairman Preston Smith, of the local golf tournament has announced the pairings together with the handicap scores for the first match play to be held Thursday morning at 8:30 a. m. It is the hope of the committee that every one whose name is listed to be on hand promptly so that the first flight can be held during the morning, as the play will be discontinued during the afternoon, but will be continued Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There will be three prizes offered to the winners, and as this is a handicap the speculation as to the outcome is very interesting and local dopesters among the golfers are guessing a long shot will win out. The first prize will be a 12 inch high silver loving cup, engraved with name, year and club name on it, also one McGregor Master driver, one dozen golf balls, with the runner-up receiving a half dozen golf balls.

The handicap together with the pairings are as follows:

These figures were taken from and only those who played five rounds were eligible.

ALVERSON'S PAPER IS REPORTED SOLD

Friends of Hon. J. M. Alverson, proprietor of the Harlan Enterprise, were surprised to read the following in the Lexington Leader of Tuesday:

William Baker, a graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Arts and Sciences in 1920 has bought the Harlan Enterprise, weekly newspaper at Harlan, Ky., and has begun his duties as editor and business manager.

Mr. Alverson bought the Harlan paper about six months ago. His wife and young son have been quite ill since they moved there to make their home. Mr. Alverson is a former Richmond man, a son of Mrs. Mattie Alverson.

GOVERNOR PARDONS MADISON YOUTH

A dispatch from Frankfort says that Forest Masters, who has served 19 months of a five-year penitentiary sentence imposed upon him by the Madison circuit court for seduction, was pardoned today by Governor Edwin P. Morrow, because of the serious doubt as to the guilt of the prisoner. His pardon was recommended by hundreds of citizens of Madison county, more than 30 of whom are women. Masters was received at the reformatory March 31, 1921, and has been a model prisoner, according to officials.

Mr. L. B. Herrington, of Louisville, joined his wife here Monday, for a visit to Mrs. Harvey Chenault.

Weather Forecast—Generally fair tonight and Thursday. Except probable showers in northeast and central portions tonight; little change in temperature.

TURKS ACCEPT ENGLAND'S TERMS

(By Associated Press) London, Oct. 11.—A peaceful solution of the Near Eastern tangle has been apparently reached on the basis of the surrender of Eastern Thrace to the Turks with proper safeguards for Christians and neutrality of the Dardanelles to which the Turks agreed. The terms are those formulated by Great Britain.

MASONS BURY THEIR DEPARTED BROTHER

With the burial ritual of the great order which he loved and honored, the mortal remains of Robert R. Burnam, Sr., were laid to rest in Richmond cemetery, Wednesday afternoon. Around the flower covered bier, the Masons of prominence from all over the state gathered to pay their last tribute to their deceased brother. The Grand Master of Kentucky and other high officers were present on the solemn and sad occasion, while hosts of friends joined their sorrow with that of the bereaved loved ones. The floral tributes were magnificent in their splendor and profusion.

Short services were held at the home of his pastor, Dr. R. L. Telford. Then escorted by the Masonic guard of honor, the cortege moved to the city of the dead where the last rites of Masonry followed by another prayer, bade farewell to the departed brother.

CHICAGO MAY LOSE AS FUTURES MARKET

(By Associated Press) Chicago, Oct. 11.—Hedging and trading in wheat futures is being driven from Chicago to Winnipeg and Liverpool by the threats of the Capper-Tincher law," John Mauff, secretary of the Board of Trade told the Federal Trade Commission today. He said the supremacy of the Chicago markets which now handle more grain than all the rest of the world's exchanges, together, is seriously threatened. If the new law is upheld by the Supreme Court, he said, buyers of cash grain who wish to protect themselves will be forced to go to the British markets to deal in futures.

To Explain Special Road Tax

The special road tax question will be explained to the members of the Kiwanis Club of Berea by R. E. Turley of this city tonight. On Thursday night, the 12 will be speakers at the Upper Silver Creek schoolhouse, to talk on this important issue which confronts the people of Madison county who want to see their roads improved.

Coburn's Minstrels At Opera House Tonight

J. A. Coburn, the minstrel king arrived with his splendid aggregation and will be the headline at the opera house tonight. Among the splendid list of black face comedians, Richmond will be agreeably surprised to see Gordon Hunt, who assisted Gov. Bowen with the Legion minstrel here for the past two years.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 11.—The Highway Commission accepted the offer of McCreary county to put up $200,000 of a recent bond issue for work on the Dixie air line in that county.

WALLACE URGES TREE CONSERVATION

And Also Urges Eastern Normal Students To Take Interest In State's Forests

(By Associated Press) Conservation of the forests of Kentucky, not by being sentimental about trees and insisting that the woodman spare them all, but by recognizing forest products as indispensable material and seeing that the supply does not run out, was urged in an address here Wednesday, by Tom Wallace, associated Editor of the Courier-Journal, to students of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School and Teachers' College.

Mr. Wallace also touched briefly upon the conservation and propagation of fish and game in his address.

"Need I tell a Kentucky audience that this State possessed originally, and until recently, vast forest wealth," asked Mr. Wallace. "Nearly one-third of the total area, or about 15,000 square miles, was covered with magnificent forests.

"I have seen land with virgin forest upon it sold for less per acre than the annual income from that land would be nowadays if it were under conservation producing an annual virgin yield of timber without the stand being impaired.

"I have seen that land, deforested and tilled, become worth less per acre than it was worth when sold as woodland. I have seen poplar boards sold in the Louisville market for more than the market value of their weight in corn produced upon land on which stood originally tulip poplars six feet in diameter."

Advocacy of forestry means recognizing forests as indispensable regulators of stream flow and barriers against floods, according to Mr. Wallace. Timber should be treated as a crop and handled with as much forethought as grain or kitchen garden products, the speaker declared.

"American timber rapidly is being exhausted," said Mr. Wallace. "The center of production, from virgin forests, is shifting to the Pacific Coasts. Sixty per cent of the cost of lumber in Eastern States is the freight cost. There is talk of drawing next upon Alaskan forests, with an increase of freight cost."

"Sundry States are instituting forestry. Nothing is being done to renew Kentucky's timber. In 1912 a Kentucky Legislature created a Forestry Commission and appropriated $15,000 annually for its use in preventing forests fires and otherwise."

"In 1920 the Kentucky Legislature abolished the Forestry Commission as a measure of economy, reduced the appropriation to $6,000 a year, made forestry subordinate to the Department of Agriculture and so hedged about with specifications the expenditure of the small appropriation that half of it is turned back into the State Treasury. Thus the State is deprived of national funds which would be used supplementing its own to procure protection from forest fires."

The work that is being done in other states was discussed by Mr. Wallace and his hearers were urged to aid in the conservation movement of Kentucky. "I suggest that you help form public opinion in this State favorable to the establishment of enterprise," he said.

Whenever and wherever forestry is discussed in Kentucky array yourselves with the forests of progress and against the force of economic illiteracy," Mr. Wallace told the students. "Bear in mind the office-holders, legislators and others, are your servants. Tell them what you want done, and they are likely to do it if convinced that yours is the voice of the majority and that you really do want it done."

"If you tell your domestic servants what you want done they may quit. In dealing with public servants no such peril is encountered. They want above all things not to have to quit. They do not deliberately defy public opinion."

FANS WILL SEE HIM PLAY HERE THURSDAY

EARL COMBS

DOWNPOUR ONLY CAN PREVENT GAME

Earl Combs and Colonels Here Thursday and Every Effort Made To Play Ball

Earl Combs got in with most of the Colonels at noon Wednesday. Rain prevented the game scheduled at Cynthiana.

If it is possible under weather conditions to play ball Thursday, the game will be played at Walker's Park a short distance from town on the Barnes Mill pike.

The grounds there have drained well from the heavy rains of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. The Normal school grounds are in such soggy shape that several days of warm sunshine would be necessary to put them in condition to play. Fans are expected by the hundreds at the big game. Everybody is giving Combs and his pals the warmest kind of welcome.

The ball game between Richmond and the Louisville Colonels will be played Thursday if there is the slightest chance. Both teams are primed for the battle and the public are on their toes waiting for the scrap. Mayor Wm. O'Neil has declared a half-holiday for Thursday afternoon so that as many as possible will be out to greet Earl Combs when he comes on the field. The majority of the fans have not seen him play for some time and hundreds are expected to take advantage of the opportunity.

The scene of battle has been changed to Walker's Park and this place will be large enough to accommodate the large crowd, which is expected. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock sharp.

Manager Owen Hise, of the local club, has added several valuable men to his roster, "Rasty" Wright, who finished the season with the Pittsburgh Pirates will be here and ready to answer the call if Hise calls upon him to do the pitching work. He is considered one of the best pitching prospects picked up in some time by the Pirates. "Rasty" has quite a record and will prove hard to solve if selected to face Louisville. Clel Tatum, the Paint Lick boy, will also be here and ready to pitch. It is known by all the local fans that he is quite a twirler. He is said to be the property of the St. Louis Browns which means that Richmond will be represented by two big leaguers in the box.

The Richmond infield against the Colonels will be composed of Park at first, Ginter at second, Reisenberg at short, and Hise at third. All the fans know of the prowess of Park. Hise and Ginter as they have performed many times on local diamonds. Reisenberg is considered the best short-fielder in the present Blue Grass League.

All of these boys are real hitters and will trouble the visiting twirlers to some extent. As fielders these boys will be hard to beat anywhere in the state.

The outfield will be made up of players not so well known to Richmond fans but all are experienced players. Hogan, who will cover the central garden, is the leading slugger in the Blue Grass League, as fast as lightning, and a sure fielder. He is the best seen in this part of the state in many a day. The right field will be guarded by "Rip" VanWinkle, who played here with the Wesleyan College nine in 1920. He is a dangerous man at the bat, having been one of Winchester's leading sluggers this year. The third member of the outfield will be Lewis, a Western League product, who is said to be among the best in the circuit. These men can keep step with the rest of the boys with ease. They are all expected to shine in their respective positions.

Louisville defeated Maysville Tuesday by a score of 11 to 0. They play in Cynthiana Wednesday where a good game is expected. They have not been defeated throughout their tour of the blue grass but as they approach Richmond many are predicting this will be stopped. The batting orders of the respective teams as they will start Thursday are as follows:

Louisville	Acosta cf
Betz 2b	Combs 1f
Kirke 1b	Ellis rf
Meyers c	Schepner 3b
Ballenger ss	Deberry of
Tincup p

Enterprising Madison Girl

The Stanford Journal said this the other day:

An enterprising Madison County girl has a little gold mine, if it will last long enough. Near her home the county is erecting a concrete bridge and as a consequence the road is blocked. To detour would cause many miles of travel. She holds the key to the situation and it takes just twenty-five cents to make her use that key. There's a gate to a passway through her premises and a big padlock adorns the gate. It is easy if you have the quarter, for she politely unlocks the gate, swings it ajar and invites you to pass through. But if you are shy the aforesaid two-bits you're in for a trip of miles around.

Jackson County Man Pardoned

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 11.—Governor Morrow pardoned before trial E. C. Shepherd, 82 years old, under indictment in Jackson county, charged with disturbing a public speaker. The pardon was recommended by L. C. Lytle, the speaker.

Assessor's Wife Suicides

(By Associated Press) Paducah, Ky., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Annie Bailey, 51, wife of city assessor, Henry Bailey, shot and killed herself at her home here today. She had been in ill health for several years.

DOESN'T WANT HIS MONEY--BUT

(By Associated Press) Atlanta, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Onezima Debonchel, beautiful New Orleans divorcee, whose engagement to Asa Candler, Atlanta capitalist, was abruptly terminated, in a statement here today said "I have deep sympathy for the lonely old man whose children have grown away from him, and the companionship I craved, rather than love, inspired my engagement to him." She said she did not want a penny of Candler's money "but they will have to pay and pay dearly for their combine to wreck my reputation by insults." Candler in a statement yesterday said it will be impossible for him to marry her due to her alleged indiscretions.

GREAT MAGNITUDE OF POOL WEED SALE

(By Associated Press) Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Figures given out here today by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association show the magnitude of the association's deal with the Reynolds Tobacco Company which takes over practically all the holdings of the 1921 crop. Manager Robert Beatty said it would require 67 freight trains of 50 cars each to carry the 54,000,000 pounds sold. It would fill 3,375 standard freight cars and if the hogsheads were placed end to end they would reach more than 50 miles.

Official figures from the Department of Agriculture at Washington received here today showed the 1921 burley crop averaged 9 cents a pound more than in 1920.

Good For Wall Paper (By Associated Press) Geneva, Oct. 11.—Austrian crowns are now quoted only in millions on the Geneva Stock Exchange. Today's quotations are 67 Swiss francs for a million crowns. The directors are also considering quoting German marks in the millions.

Coal Production Speeding Up

(By Associated Press) Washington, Oct. 11.—The American Association Railway figures announced today showed 40,956 carloads of coal produced last Monday. This is the largest production since December, 1920.

Mrs. R. B. Mullins, is at home from a visit to relatives in Mt. Vernon.

ODD FELLOWS CONCLUDE SESSION

J. A. Dotson Wins For Grand Warden and Central City Gets Next Session

With the final business session concluded just at noon, Wednesday, the annual session of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Kentucky formally adjourned. Central City was selected as the place for the next year's meeting.

Election of officers largely constituted the business of the final morning session. The only real contest that developed was for the post of Grand Warden, which puts the successful candidate in line for the Grand Mastership, it being customary to advance officers from Grand Warden on each year without contest.

Richmond had a candidate for Grand Warden in the person of Hon. C. C. Wallace, but he together with nine other candidates went down in defeat before J. A. Dotson, of Maysville, who won the coveted honor. Other officers elected were: Grand Master—J. C. Hellum, of Eminence.

Deputy Grand Master—James Denton, of Somerset.

Grand Secretary—R. G. Elliott, of Lexington, re-elected to serve his 30th year in this office.

W. V. Gregory of Louisville, and J. Whit Potter, of Bowling Green, Grand Representative.

The new appointive officers are:

Grand Marshal—R. B. Ballard, of Barbourville.

Grand Conductor—Owen Mann, of Louisville.

Grand Messenger—Adolph Abraham, of Shelbyville.

Grand Guardian—J. H. Shaffer, of Bardwell.

Grand Herald—W. R. Gardner, of Bowling Green.

Grand Chaplain—H. W. Elliott, of Sulphur.

Two new members were added to the Board of Directors of the Orphans' Home at Lexington. Messrs. Roy Foreman of Lexington, and B. A. Logan, of Shelbyville. Other members of the board of directors are James Denton, T. E. King, W. V. Gregory, Beckham Overstreet, Miss Mattie Dalton, J. Whit Potter, J. R. Haley, E. M. Faries, P. P. Cyrus, Mrs. Ella M. Carr, George I. Brill, Julian T. Yeager, J. R. Smith, M. M. Logan, and Mrs. Sarah J. Hughes.

Four cities offered cordial invitations for the next session but Central City won out over Louisville, Paducah and Georgetown.

The host of Odd Fellows left with kindest expressions of appreciation of their reception and entertainment by Madison Lodge and the people of Richmond generally.

A most delightful feature Tuesday evening was the concert given by youngsters from the Home. The work of those who took part on the program was enthusiastically commended on all sides.

JAMES DENTON, DEPUTY GRAND MASTER
